

ANTÓNIO HENRIQUES

ahenriques fep.up.pt

2009 – PhD; History, University of York

2003 – MA; Medieval History, Universidade Nova de Lisboa

1998 – BA; History, Universidade de Lisboa (17/20)

AH is an economic historian whose main research interests are long-term growth and fiscal and financial history. His research is built upon extensive archival work and unpublished sources. Before joining the DEBT project, he took part in the Prices, Wages and Rents. Portugal, 1300-1900 project. He is a keen lecturer at the Faculty of Economics, University of Porto, where he teaches Economic History.

Main publications:

2020. "Capital in a Frontier Economy. Portugal 1230-1500", Revista de Historia Economica - Journal of Iberian and Latin-American History Link.

2020. "A Thirteenth-century Fiscal Constitution" in Brites Pereira, L., Mata, M. E., Rocha de Sousa, M. (eds.), Economic Globalization and Convergence, New York, Springer Link.

2015. "Plenty of Land, Land of Plenty. The Agrarian Output of Portugal, 1311-20." European Review of Economic History 19(2), pp. 149-170 Link.

2015. Sob o Signo do Pelicano. Os primeiros 175 anos do Montepio Geral, Lisbon, INCM, (with José Eduardo Franco)